Editor’s Corner

This month’s webinars are a return to and a departure from our usual offerings. Your Academic Skills Center (ASC) is thrilled to offer a new statistics webinar, “Ease into Statistics with your Academic Skills Center”, helping Walden University students feel more comfortable with statistics. And we are also excited to offer a new success strategy on filming, “5 Success Strategies for Filming Yourself” for students who may find themselves in front of a camera whether at an online meeting, webinar, or making their own film for a social change project.

Register for those webinars today by visiting our webinar page.

Thank you for your continued support.

Stay Savvy.
